

SET 29

(AWT AND SWINGS)

1. Design a standalone application for addition of two integers
2. Design a standalone application for Subtraction of two integers
3. Design a standalone application for Multiplication of two integers
4. Design a standalone application for Division of two real numbers
5. Design a standalone application for counting the clicks on a button
6. Design a standalone application for performing all arithmetic operations in different frames through main frame
7. Design a standalone application to calculate simple interest
8. Design a standalone application to calculate compound interest
9. Design a standalone application to perform all arithmetic operations based on user choice using radio button
10. Design a standalone application to perform all arithmetic operations based on user choice using Combo box
